

Guillem López-Casasnovas is Professor in Economics at Pompeu Fabra University in Barcelona, Spain, and Member of the Directors' Board of the Bank of Spain.

D. Phil. Economics (1984) Univ. of York, UK., he has a degree in Economics, (1978) and a degree in Law, (1979) Univ. of Barcelona.

Among many academic commitments he is the President elected of the International Health Economics Association, Member of the Royal Academy of Medicine and Honorary Membre of The College of Economists of Catalonia. Member of the Advisory Council of the Spanish Health and Consumption Ministry and of the Advisory Council of the Catalan Health Ministry

He has been a member of the Committee for the Rationalization and Improvement of Health Care Spending in Catalonia, as well as advising on ageing and dependency for the Spanish Ministry of Labour and Social Affairs and at present for the Spanish Parliament.

He funded the Centre of Health and Economics. (CRES at Pompeu Fabra) and he is at present Codirector of The Executive Program on Global Health Policy Leadership with the Public Health School at Univ of Berkeley and Univ. Pompeu Fabra.

His research interests include public finance, fiscal policy and health economics.