

Date of publication of the job offer 16/Dec/2019
Job title Jr Biotechnologist
Job description Exploration, compilation and modeling support to explore terraformation scenarios involving peribolic reactions in multispecies model ecosystems
Project and Institution that finance the contract MADONNA EU H2020 project Official number reference PR01018
Information on the minimum requirements We seek for a postgraduate with degree in Biotechnology (alternatively, environmental science, biology) with knowledge on synthetic biology (both experimental and theoretical skill). Knowledge in programming and simulation, ecosystem modelling and interest in environmental sustainability and collapse.
Benefits of the opening The candidate will receive a three-month gross salary of 4280 € plus social security costs. It will work in a multidisciplinary research environment. The job involves participating in a very ambitious, cutting-edge science project.
Information on the application process Deadline to submit applications December 31, 2019 Contact ricard.sole@upf.edu