

Dr. Campanelli is an international trainer, researcher and survey methods consultant; and UK Chartered Statistician, Chartered Scientist and fellow of the Academy of Social Sciences. Prior to becoming an independent consultant, she worked at the University of Michigan, US Census Bureau, ISER at the University of Essex, and was a Research Director at NatCen Social Research, London. She has led an UK Economic and Social Research Council grant on Survey Nonresponse and participated in one on Mixed Modes and Measurement Error (face-to-face, telephone and web). Her main interests are web surveys, questionnaire design, question testing methods, mixed mode designs.