

Jorge Cimentada is a PhD candidate in Sociology at Pompeu Fabra University. He belongs to the Research and Expertise Centre for Survey Methodology \(RECSM\) and his main research interests are the study of achievement inequality, the role of schools in reproducing these inequalities and early education as a remedy to achievement inequalities. While finishing his thesis, he's working as an R programmer for projects related to the European Social Survey. He's developed several R packages and is very passionate about statistical programming with R, data visualization and statistics.

If you wish to contact him, send him an email to cimentadaj@gmail.com or Github.