The EU Studies Institute (EUSI)

The EU Studies Institute (EUSI) is a centre for academic education, research, and outreach activities on EU-related issues in Japan. It is managed by a Consortium comprising of three Tokyo universities: Hitotsubashi University, Tsuda College and Keio University. It succeeds the heritage and assets of the EUIJ Tokyo Consortium (Hitotsubashi University, Tsuda College, International Christian University and Tokyo University of Foreign Studies) which has been established since 2004.

The EU is now a global actor as it has twenty-seven member states with nearly five hundred million inhabitants; exceeds the US in economic scale; circulates a common currency in sixteen member states; and is developing a comprehensive Common Foreign and Security Policy. The EU standards, such as the safety standards applied to the environment, food or manufactured goods, are becoming globalised beyond the EU territory.

In Japan, however, the EU seems relatively underestimated when compared to the USA. It motivates us to undertake and sustain the following three activities in Japan: improving the EU-related education programme both in quantity and quality to get young people more interested in the EU; developing EU studies in a variety of research fields; and promoting outreach activities to increase the general awareness of the EU in Japan and beyond.

The Leuven Centre for Global Governance Studies

The Leuven Centre for Global Governance Studies is an interdisciplinary research centre of the Humanities and Social Sciences at the University of Leuven.

It carries out and supports interdisciplinary research at the University on topics related to globalization, governance processes and multilateralism, with a particular focus on the following areas, taking the many cross-cutting issues into account:

- the European Union and global multilateral governance
- trade and sustainable development
- peace and security, including conflict prevention, crisis management and peacebuilding
- human rights, democracy and rule of law.

In full recognition of the complex issues involved, the Centre approaches global governance from a multi-level and multi-actor perspective. In addition to its fundamental research activities, the Centre carries out independent applied research and offers innovative policy advice to policymakers on multilateral governance and global public policy issues.
